

Bill Carter and the Presbybop Quartet

Bill Carter and the Presbybop Quartet are the best known musicians playing “sacred jazz” in the United States. Formed in 1993 by pianist Bill Carter, a Presbyterian minister, this consort of New York-based professionals have toured the country extensively in presenting concerts and jazz worship services.

In addition to Bill Carter, the primary composer for the group, the core members of the ensemble include saxophonist Al Hamme, bassist Tony Marino, and drummer Ron Vincent. The collective resumes of the band members reads like a “Who’s Who” in the jazz world. They have performed with Phil Woods, Bob Brookmeyer, David Liebman, Gerry Mulligan, Clark Terry, Dave Brubeck, Bobby Watson, Lee Konitz, Marian McPartland, Slam Stewart, and Bill Mays, among many others.

Al Hamme, Tony Marino, Bill Carter, Ron Vincent

The Presbybop Quartet maintains a busy performance schedule of national and regional engagements. In addition to presenting countless concerts and jazz vespers, they have served as the “house band” for major clergy conferences, led worship services for the Presbyterian Church (USA) General Assembly, and served as “musical theologians in residence” at Princeton Theological Seminary, Yale Divinity School, the Massachusetts United Church of Christ, and the Arkansas conference of the United Methodist Church.

What they are saying about the Presbybop Quartet:

“Bill Carter is a great piano player. I think his music is wonderful”
- Dave Brubeck

“You should get me to play on that music. Keep up the good work!”
- David Liebman

“I love what you are doing”
- Lee, Iowa

“I knew the concert would be good, but I didn’t expect to be blown away. Wow!”
- Doug, Ohio

“Your song ‘Welcome Home’ brings me to tears”
- Jan, Oregon

“Incredible!”
- Von, North Carolina

They have released ten CDs and two DVDs of original tunes and jazzed-up church music, including “John According to Jazz” with biblical storyteller Dennis Dewey, “Welcome Home” with vocalist Warren Cooper, and “Psalms Without Words,” a double-CD exploration of instrumental music as prayer.

Their latest CD is called “Jazz for the Earth,” a project for sextet that explores the interplay of jazz and ecology. It features the “Beyond Banff Suite” with guest soloist David Liebman (NEA Jazz Master). As with all of the recordings, it is available on the band’s website at www.presbybop.com.

Presbybop Music

152 Edgewood Drive
Clarks Summit, PA 18411

Website
Phone
Fax
E-mail

www.presbybop.com
570-586-6776
570-587-3784
office@presbybop.com